I. COMMITTEE BACKGROUND

This committee was made with the objective of having delegates use their creativity to solve issues that haven't happened yet. This committee will be fun and an interesting way to show what we expect our future to look like. Furthermore, this committee will be fictitious, however the issues will be based on real issues that may evolve with time.

II. CONTEXT

This committee will take place in 2030, after the UN's plan begins to be executed. We will be facing the consequences of it, both positive and negative, and fix the issues that come with the plan. Furthermore, we will see what happens to the countries that did not agree with the plan.

III. RESEARCH BULLET POINTS

Considering that this committee is based on the future, there really isn't much to investigate. However there are some things that you can research that will help you in the debate.

- The UN's plan 2030
- What countries are a part of it.
- Predictions for your country in 2030
- Technology that will most likely exist/evolve in 2030
